NORWICH BANKERS
HOME FROM CONVENTION.
Excellent Time Enjoyed on the Month's Trip to Pacific Coast.

Included among the 450 delegates and their families who returned to New York on Saturday after attending the thirty-sixth annual convention of the American Bankers' association at Los Angeles, Cal., were Messrs. Willis A. Biscoe, Arthur H. Brewer, Frank L. Woodard and Messrs. Greene, who reached home in this city late Saturday evening. The party left here Sept. 26, and the entire trip of 8,196 miles to the Pacific coast and return was made under the most favorable conditions.

The special trains that conveyed the delegates passed through eighteen states and through the Alberta and Saskatchewan countries of Canada, and everywhere along the entire route were showings of the most prosperous conditions. Over 2,800 delegates from various portions of the United States and Canada registered at the convention, which is reported as being the most successful ever held.

They found the country all through the far west was growing beyond conception and the residents were enthusiastic in respect to everything that concerned them. Everybody out there that they met, and the enthusiasm was made to the accommodations, service and courteous treatment received on the trains, which was all that could be expected from the varied kinds of entertainment were provided for the bankers at different places where they made stops and, all in all, the trip was a most delightful and profitable one.

During his stay in Los Angeles Mr. Biscoe met Mr. W. H. Burnham, a Norwich man, who is now at the head of Dunn's mercantile agency in that city, and in Seattle he chanced to meet Mrs. E. A. Stevens, formerly Miss Helen Noyes, of this city, who was employed at one time in the book store of May & Davis.

Mr. Stevens, a Brown college graduate, a prosperous attorney in Seattle. While the party were in San Francisco T. C. Coogan, formerly of Hartford, who studied law with Mr. Biscoe, was present and he lighted his friends from the east with the most glowing accounts of his good fortune in the practice of law in San Francisco, where he is a member of the board of underwriters.

OBITUARY.

James M. Larrabee.

The death of James M. Larrabee, a highly respected resident of Gardiner, Me., for over fifty years, occurred there Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. His son, J. Holland Larrabee, of this city, received the sad news on Monday afternoon and left for Gardiner by the Portland train at 3:30 p. m.

The deceased was a native of Wales, Me., and would have been 77 in December. Since 1861 he had resided in Gardiner, where he was a prominent place in the respect of his fellow citizens, living an exemplary life. He had been in poor health since July, gradually failing, but his death came unexpectedly on Monday following a sudden collapse.

He had been judge of the municipal court for twenty years, had also served as city treasurer and superintendent of schools, and was a deacon of the Congregational church. He was prominent in Masonic circles, belonging to the Knights Templar. He was a past grand commander of the state of Maine and was a grand master of the grand lodge. He was past president of the local bodies in Gardiner for 25 years, had been secretary of the city for four years, and was a member of the Maine Historical society and had written for the papers there. Besides his wife, Deacon Larrabee is survived by four sons, J. Holland Larrabee of this city, Edgar W. of Lowell, Mass., Harry E. of Gardiner and Austin B. of Wichita, Kan. He also leaves one daughter, Miss Edith M. Larrabee, who lived at home.

Telephonic service is now open between Moscow and Nini Novgorod, a distance of 275 miles.

WISE WORDS

A Physician on Food.

A physician of Portland, Oregon, has views about food. He says:

"I have always believed that the duty of the physician does not cease with treating the sick, but that we owe it to humanity to teach them how to protect their health, especially by hygienic and dietetic laws.

With such a feeling as to my duty I take great pleasure in saying to the public that in my own experience and also from personal observation I have found no food to equal Grape-Nuts, and that I find there is almost no limit to the great benefit this food will bring when used in all cases of sickness and convalescence.

"It is my experience that no physical condition forbids the use of Grape-Nuts. To persons in health there is nothing so nourishing and acceptable to the stomach as Grape-Nuts, and to start the machinery of the human system on the day's work.

"In cases of indigestion I know that a complete breakfast can be made of Grape-Nuts and cream and I think it is not advisable to overload the stomach at the morning meal. I also know the great value of Grape-Nuts when the stomach is too weak to digest other food.

"This is written after an experience of more than 20 years, treating all manner of chronic and acute diseases, and the letter is written on my part without any request for it."

Read the little book "The Road to Wellville" in pigs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

EXAMINING MOHEGAN LAKE WATER

Health Officer Dr. Lewis Expects a Report from State Chemist Soon—Pipeline to Enter Rockwell Street

Main Instead of Baltic Street.

John J. Corkery, superintendent of the water department, stated on Monday that a change in the pipeline from Mohegan Lake had been decided upon, and it has been staked out by Civil Engineer Chandler so that it will go entirely on the property, coming down through the park to Rockwell street at the head of Platt avenue. The work of the first of the month, it is thought, on Monday and will be continued until all is laid along the course, which is about 4,500 feet in length. About 100 tons of pipe will be used.

Both for the purpose of keeping the pipeline on the city property and also to save a six inch main to connect with Baltic street there is only a four inch main.

A sample of the water of Mohegan Lake was sent away last week by Health Officer Dr. N. B. Lewis to have the state chemist make an examination to determine if it is safe to drink. It was made, and hereafter it is believed that better progress will be made at the well. No work was done there on Monday, but before the visit of President Ray believes that it will prove an excellent well. The apparatus is being covered in so that the men can work in all kinds of weather. President Ray assured the board that there would be no difficulty in getting the water to the inside a diver from T.

R. Scott company of New London is to be brought here within a few days. There will be a shut off below the dam, so that none of the water need be let into the mains unless it is absolutely required. A filter will also be placed on the pipe. Just how the use of the water will be required is not at all known, but it cannot be used until after the first of the month, it is thought, as the laying of the pipe and making the connections will require some time.

THEY NEVER FAIL

That is What They Say About Them in Norwich, and it is Therefore Reliable.

Another proof, more evidence, Norwich testimony to swell the long list of local people who endorse the old Quaker remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills. Read this convincing endorsement of that remarkable preparation:

Eugene Sweet, Tunneyville Avenue, Norwich, Conn., says: "It was at least twelve years ago that I first learned of Doan's Kidney Pills. At that time I was in desperate need of kidney remedy. For eight weeks I was confined to my bed on account of lumbago and was almost helpless, having to be turned over and being unable to move at all without assistance. My suffering was about all any person could endure. Sharp pains across my loins and kidneys caused me misery of the worst kind. I was also annoyed by irregular passages of the kidney secretions. I consulted three of the best physicians in Providence, R. I., but they failed to make the slightest improvement. It was finally my good fortune to read of Doan's Kidney Pills and I was so much impressed with what was said in their favor that I began their use. Their beneficial effect was soon noticeable and I continued to improve so rapidly that I was soon able to resume work. I give the entire credit of my recovery to Doan's Kidney Pills and never intend to be without a supply in the house."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Posters-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Retail, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"It Quoted All."

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first doses gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Lee & Osmond Co.

Commencing next Monday Lewis R. Adams, who is also known as Doc Adams of Chicago, will become manager of Poli's theater in this city, succeeding H. H. Bliss, who almost since the opening has directed the affairs of the local playhouse. Mr. Adams was formerly in the newspaper business and has also traveled with several shows as press agent and before William C. Thompson took the job he was with the 101 Ranch. He has had much experience in the show business.

Mr. Bliss goes to Scranton, Pa., to the new theater which Mr. Poli recently leased for a term of years and where stock companies are to be located. Previous to his coming to this city he was at Scranton, where he is familiar. He was also manager of the theater to which he is returning, so that he is getting a good deal of promotion for his good work here. Until recently that house has been run in opposition to another Scranton theater, but hereafter it will be devoted to stock. Mr. Bliss' many friends will regret his leaving town.

AT POLI'S.
Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

Both afternoon and evening on Monday Poli's was packed to witness the big bill offered for the week's opening. Every number proved a winner and won great applause. Miss Dowdall of Norwich Town guessed within four of the number of beads in the jar and was given the $25 dress. Her guess was 1,680.

Carberry Brothers offer a treat in the dancing line with their number for which they get a recall and much applause. Wise Mike is the educated small dog who solves a mind reader and carries through a stunt which some people were unable to do. The accomplishments of the little fellow are marvellous.

Beth Tate, a singing comedienne made an instant hit, her work being of a high order throughout. Her song, "The Philadelphia Blues," was a charming selection and commanding great favor in their solo numbers as well. Philip Jean, the man in white, is clever in songs and stories of the sunny south and the nicely selected cameragraphs make a delightful programme in that part of the show. At the close of the evening the $5 gold piece went to F. J. Mathier of No. 38 Broadway, who had the lucky seat number.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.
Vaudeville and Moving Pictures.

A vaudeville bill that sparked in every turn was the offering at the Auditorium on Monday for the first half of this week, and big house showed their satisfaction with the bill by their plentiful applause. Headliners were the Kuna family, a trio of Japanese, who sang and played magic and equilibristics in darning and danger. They bring down the house.

The Three Cycling Cogswells are another number displaying skill and training and their work on the flying wheels, single or double or in pyramids, is neatly done and brings out a big hand. Page & Morency, a musical team on harp and violin, combine these two sweet toned instruments with charming selections and commanding great favor in their solo numbers as well. Philip Jean, the man in white, is clever in songs and stories of the sunny south and the nicely selected cameragraphs make a delightful programme in that part of the show. At the close of the evening the $5 gold piece went to F. J. Mathier of No. 38 Broadway, who had the lucky seat number.

Her Advantage.

"Oh, dear!" said little Harold's mother, who was somewhat theistic. "I seem to ache all over."

"Well," said her sweet child, "I'm sorry, but not as sorry as I'd be for father if he felt that way."

"Why would you feel more sorry for your father, love?"

"'Cause they'd be such a lot more of him to ache."

This is the Suction Cleaner you have seen advertised so extensively in the magazines. The demonstration will show you that it does all that the advertisements claim for it. It will do all that the doubly expensive, heavy Vacuum Cleaners will do and more besides. It is so light it can be carried from room to room by a child.
